Moving the Network License Manager
to a different computer

When you need to move the Network License Manager to a new computer there are five steps that need to be taken:

1) "Internet Deactivate" the Network License Manager from the computer where it is installed.

2) Uninstall it from the prior computer (only for good housekeeping)

3) Install the NLM on the new computer

4) Paste in the Product Control Code on the new computer

5) "Internet Activate" the NLM on the new computer

Note: In some cases the NLM will be activated with a license file and you can ignore the "Internet Activation/Deactivation instructions

Internet Deactivation

(1) If your Network License Manager (NLM) is running as a service then stop the service. The most direct way to do this is:

  (a) Right-click the "My Computer" icon and select "Manage"

  (b) Expand the tree for "Services & Applications"

  (c) Click on "Services" that is indented in the tree

  (d) On the right side of the window look for the listed item ENERCALC NLM, right click on it, and select "Stop" from the popup menu.

  (e) You can now close the "Services" window.

(2) Start the Network License Manager using the link installed under the ENERCALC V 6 link in the Program group.
(3) Select the "Licensing" tab

(4) Press the [Click Here to Activate -or- Deactivate Program] button.

(5) On the next screen you will see a [Internet Deactivate] button. Pressing that button will deactivate the software on this computer and tell our activation server to free up your license so you can "Internet Activate" again.

After a momentary pause you will get a window confirming deactivation.

Your activation has now been returned to our server and you can go to another computer, install the Network License Manager, paste in the P.C. and "activate" it using the [Internet Activate] selection on the licensing screen.

Uninstall Software

To uninstall the software just use the "Uninstall NLM" link in the program group OR use the "Add Remove Programs" section on the Windows Control Pane.
